GOOD ROADS MEETING

Editorial Comments.
Gov. Rye will be inaugurated at Nashville Jan. 15.

Will be Held Next Tuesday at the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association Rooms.

COWHERD TO MAKE REPORT

Of the Operations of the Good Roads Association.

The Germans have arrested Cardinal Mercier for advising Belgians not to give allegiance to the German administration of affairs in the proposed annexation of Belgium. His arrest has created a profound sensation throughout the Catholic world. Pope Benedict is expected to ask for speedy redress.

Alleging he had been put to much pains and damaged the loss of a car in the pursuit of his profession as the result of being compelled to return to a lower class, F. C. Morehead has filed suit for $2,406 against the University of Louisville.

Says that he has lost a year in suit of his profession.

At a Christmas entertainment at Fulton, Eldridge Hastings fired what was supposed to be a 32 blank cartridge at Miss Gertrude Binkley, a pretty young school teacher. The cartridge was loaded and Miss Binkley was hit in the calf of her leg, but gamely finished the play without an outcry and then fainted.

KITTY LEAGUE MEETING

Called For Jan. 15th In This City By President
Bassett.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 9.—For the purpose of setting the business of the 1914 season and considering arrangements for the 1915 season the Kitty league will hold a meeting about January 15, in Hopkinsville, Ky., according to President Frank H. Bassett, Paris, Tenn., and Vincennes, Ind., are reported to be applicants for berths and it is likely the other cities will make an effort to join the circuit. What old cities will retain their franchises is not known, although Cairo, Ill., and Paducah are reasonably certain. The Paducah association is expected to be reorganized, as J. W. Worrell, a traveling salesman and baseball enthusiast, has secured proxies for a majority of the stock and practically will control the selection of directors and business manager.

Buried at Pembroke.

Mrs. Helen Hart Stuart, widow of the late J. J. Stuart, formerly of this county, died in Louisville a few days ago, age 62 years. Two daughters, Mrs. H. B. McComb, of Jellico, Tenn., and Mrs. H. L. Donovan, of Louisville, and a son, John Robert Stuart, of Paducah, survive. She also leaves an only brother, Mr.
Robert Hart, of St. Charles, Hopkins county. The body was brought to Pembroke for interment.

Money For Teachers.

Frankfort, Jan., 8.—Checks aggregating $553,498.24 have been mailed by Barksdale Hamlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to the rural and city school teachers. The checks are for the fifth installment due the teachers.
After paying this installment there is more than enough money left in the school fund to meet the February installment when due.

167 Weddings a Day.

The year 1914 broke the marriage license record in New York City, according to figures made public by City Clerk Patrick J. Seely. In the five boroughs of the city, 60,981 licenses were issued, and increase over 1913 of 1,988.

TURKS HAVE BEEN BADLY LICKED

London Believes Menace to Russia is Lost by Defeat in Caucasus—Expects Turks to Fight on the Defensive Only.

RUSSIANS ARE POURING INTO HUNGARY

French Continue to Make Gains in Alsace—Fields and Roads of Flanders Under Water Halt All Except Artillery Fighting.

London, Jan. 8.—A complete change in the situation in the near east may be brought about by the Russian victory over the Turks in the Caucasus. If the Turkish defeat is as sweeping as has been reported officially—the virtual destruction of two Turkish army corps and the repulse of a third—the Turkish menace against the Russians in Trans-Caucasia has been removed. The loss of so many of their best trained officers and men, it is believed here, will compel the Turks to give up any ambition they had of invading their enemy's territories and force them to concentrate on the defense of their own country.

Military men, however, are taking even greater interest in the Russian invasion of Hungary through Uzsol Pass in the Carpathians and their rapid advance on Transylvania through Bukowina simultaneously with their movement toward Cracow. These combined operations are the most gigantic undertaken in the war.

In the meantime the Russians are held by the Austro-Germans in western Galicia. Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander in northern Poland, can move but slowly because of the mud in his offensive operations against Warsaw.

A Petrograd dispatch says that aviators have observed German artillery at the frontier railway station which cannot be moved because of the roads. It has been suggested that the Germans intended to use the Vistula for the transport of their guns but with the Russians in possession of the northern bank this obviously would be impossible.

Although the fighting has been intense at many points on the western front, there is little or no change in Flanders, where the fields and roads are under several feet of water. In that territory only artillery has been able to work but in northern France, between Lille and Arras, there has been some hard fighting in which trenches have changed hands more than once.

Hard fighting continues in Alsace, where the French claim an advance toward Altkirch. They apparently have got no further along the Cernay road from Steinbach.

The British admiralty is convinced that the battleship Formidable was destroyed by a German submarine. In making this announcement in the house of lords the Earl of Crewe divulged the information that the Spartan rule which the admiralty promulgated after the loss of the cruisers Aboukir, Cressy and Hogue, that no ship should go the assistance of another for fear she too might be torpedoed, has been carried out. The captain of the Formidable, although he knew his ship was doomed, signaled other ships not to stand by.

At the same time the Russians are held by the Austro-Germans in western Galicia. Field Marshal von Hindenburg, the German commander in northern Poland, can move but slowly because of the mud in his offensive operations against Warsaw.

A Petrograd dispatch says that aviators have observed German artillery at the frontier railway station which cannot be moved because of the roads. It has been suggested that the Germans intended to use the Vistula for the transport of their guns but with the Russians in possession of the northern bank this obviously would be impossible.

ONLY ONE PAPER READ

At Athenaeum But That Was a Good One and Provoked Lengthy Discussion.

The Athenaeum met Thursday night at Hotel Latham with only one paper for consideration. Mr. Geo. E. Gary wrote on "Renaissance," or a looking backward at old-time things, including birds, animals, etc., as compared with modern developments. The paper was versatile and intensely interesting and called forth a wide range of discussion and storytelling. The various members were "reminded" of quite a lot of good ones and there was a veritable jokefest until eleven o'clock, in which the new members, Jim McKenzie and Prof. Peterson, scored heavily.

Those present were: Ira L. Smith, president; H. W. Linton, T. C. Underwood, L. E. Foster, Dr. M. Brown, W. S. Peterson, C. M. Thompson, Jouett Henry, L. H. Davis, Geo. E. Gary, Jas. A. McKenzie, Frank Rives, Dr. H. P. Sights, Chas. M. Meacham, J. W. Downer, W. T. Tandy, Jno. F. Bible, Dr. Austin Bell and T. J. McReynolds.

New Treasury Order.

The Comptroller of the Currency has issued instructions that no more overdrafts may be paid by National Banks. Writing about the matter, he states: "You are advised that instructions have been given by this office to all National banks in Tennessee and elsewhere to discontinue entirely the habit of granting overdrafts, and similar instructions will be issued to all National banks not yet so advised. The directors will be required to pass a resolution prohibiting officers or employees from paying any check when the maker thereof has not on deposit sufficient funds with which to meet it."

OFFERING $1.25 FOR WHEAT

Highest Price In Many Years
But Practically No Sales.

FARMERS STILL HOLDING.

Speculation Still Causing Chicago Markets to Soar Skyward.

The wild conditions on the Chicago wheat market have affected the local price and yesterday the mills were offering $1.25 a bushel, with no sales of consequence.

Comparatively few crops are still in the hands of the growers and they are holding for still higher prices.

May wheat in Chicago closed Thursday at $1.388.

Even conservative traders were willing to admit that exports at the rate of 2,000,000 bushels a day, if long continued, would seriously threaten the domestic supply.

Italy and Rumania were the countries mentioned as likely soon to be included in the war, and it could not be denied that much of the wheat bought was scheduled for shipment to Italy. Duluth reported a sale of Durum wheat to Italy at $1.99, delivered across the sea. Domestic millers were said to be eagerly after cash wheat in all directions, and as having been partly responsible for compelling Belgian relief buyers to be content with May delivery.

REGULATIONS FOR STAMPS

Better Read This and Govern Yourself Accordingly.

Washington, Jan. 8. Regulations to govern the placing of war tax stamps on conveyances of real property were issued today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborne. The tax is fifty cents on deeds that amount to more than $100 and less than $500, with fifty cents additional for each $500 or fraction over $300.

Where the consideration is nominal, or $1, the tax must be computed upon the actual value of the property conveyed, liens deducted, and the executor becomes liable for the penalty if the proper amount of stamps is not affixed. A quit claim deed is not subject to the tax, nor are oil leases, and mining leases which convey no title. Deeds to cover gifts in a family or from an individual to a municipality are not taxable.

The internal revenue bureau also has issued further regulation affecting the payment of the tax on bills of lading. It announced that although it is the shipper's duty to pay the tax, the carrier may pay, and is jointly responsible in case any bill is not stamped.

The law, it was explained, does not apply to parcel post shipments. Street railways are subject to the regulations when they accept goods for transportation as part of their regular business.

Going to Bristol.

Dr. H. G. Cunningham, who returned to Cadiz from Oklahoma a month or two ago, has closed a deal for a new location in Bristol, Tenn., where he has formed a partnership in the dental business with Dr. G. W. Overby, one of the old and established dentists.

Revival at Tabernacle.

Rev. Frank Bunch, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., representing the General Baptist church, began a revival meeting at the Union Tabernacle Thursday night and services will be held every night at 7 o'clock.

The Council.

The council held an adjourned session Thursday night for disposing of unfinished and deferred business, mostly routine reports.

W. W. GARNETT PASSES AWAY

Leading Citizen of Pembroke, Died Thursday Night, Aged Seventy-six.

FUNERAL WAS AT PEMBROKE.

He Was a Gallant Confederate Soldier and Prominent Citizen.

William Warfield Garnett, one of the county's best citizens, died at Pembroke, Ky., at 10:30 p.m. Thursday night, after a short illness, of uremic poisoning.

Mr. Garnett was the second of a family of four sons of Eldred B. Garnett, who came to this county as a child in 1821. He became an extensive land owner and a leading member of the Baptist church. His wife was Miss Frances A. Pendleton. Their only daughter became the wife of the late Rev. R. W. Morehead, a noted Baptist preacher.

W. W. Garnett was born Nov. 9, 1838. He was educated at Bethel College, Russellville, and for many years was a merchant at Pembroke in partnership with his brother, J. P. Garnett.

In 1861 he enlisted in Co. H, 1st Ky. Cavalry under Col. Helm and served one year. On May 3, 1870, he was married to Miss Sallie Bailey. Their only child, Mrs. W. E. Forgy, survives. Also two of his brothers, Hon. Jas. B. Garnett, of Cadiz, and John P. Garnett, of Pembroke. Prof. Virgil A. Garnett, his oldest brother, died several years ago, also his sister, Mrs. Morehead.

Mr. Garnett was at one time a banker and was a man of wealth and influence and a lifelong member of the Baptist church. The funeral services and interment will be at Pembroke to-day.

LOCAL MEN AFTER PLACE

As Member of The State Board of Control—Dr. Gardner.

Three local Republicans are candidates for the position on the State Board of control held by Dr. T. W. Gardner, whom it is said will not be reappointed by Gov. McRae. They are S. A. Pate, former steward; Judge W. T. Fowler and Odie Davis, who entered the contest this week. All have strong backing and the appointment is looked for any day.

AGED LADY
Of North Christian Passed Away Monday.

The wife of Mr. John H. Keys died last Monday at her home in the Palestine church neighborhood, North Christian, aged 75 years. The immediate cause of her death was la grippe. She was a member of the Baptist church. The interment took place in the Fuller burying ground Tuesday.

ing provisions and leaving Polish families to suffer from hunger.TRAINING SHEEP DOGCollie Should be Taught Wholly by One Person.Lessons of Half an Hour Daily are Sufficient and First One Should be Learned Thoroughly—Pup
Should be Watched.(By A. J. EWEN.) A good collie will be ready to begin to learn to drive sheep at about three months of age. It should be taught wholly by one person.First teach him to lead, placing a string about his neck. He will soon learn not to try to get away and to come on hearing the word "Here," or whatever word is chosen, putting on the string until he learns to come promptly.Lessons of half an hour a day are enough and this first lesson should be learned very thoroughly, so that the dog will come from any part of the yard instantly on hearing the word.Next he learns the meaning of the word "Go" by using the word when sending him through an enclosure, continually repeating the lesson until he acts promptly.As a part of this lesson he should be taught to stop anywhere on the word "Halt," emphasized at first by pulling on the string, which should be attached to his neck.The word "Whoa" is also used by some trainers to indicate that the teacher is through with him for the time being and the dog soon learns to understand it.White driving sheep it is convenient to have the dog understand the word "Speak" which means that he is to begin barking, and he can be taught the word very easily by holding up something which he wants to eat and using the word.The meaning of "Out" is easily taught when the dog is in the house by opening the door and pronouncing the word.After this preliminary education he may go out with an old trained sheep dog. By running with him the pup will soon learn much about the business, but should he be watched to see that he does not try to go to the heads of the cattle.After letting him try with the older dog for a few times he should be taken to the sheep or cattle without the other dog.If the cattle have been used to being driven by dogs they will not turn upon him, an occurrence which might injure his driving qualities for some time to come.He should learn the meaning of "Steady" when inclined to drive the cattle fast, and if the first training is

A Good Sheep Dog.

well done will stop promptly when told to halt.The word "Fetch" is commonly used when sending the dog to drive sheep, and the word "Go" for cattle; and the dog will learn to understand which his master wants him to drive.He should be taught to know the test from the right, obeying the motion of the hand in either direction.

KEEPING FIELD EDGES CLEANMany Farmers Do Not Make Much Effort to Discourage Encroachment of Trees Along Creeks.Most owners of creek farms do not make any great effort to fight the brush and timber that keeps creeping in from the woodland along the fields. Where there is plenty of rainfall, the timber can crowd in on the fields very rapidly, and the farmers who do not desire to have the size of their fields decrease should make every effort to keep the edges of the field trimmed up.White elms are especially bad about working into a field. This tree has long limbs, which grow for really wonderful distances over the fields, shade the ground, and prevent the crop from making a profitable growth.Then the tree produces great amounts of seed which fly out over the fields,where they sprout and begin to grow.
It is true they usually will die, but they cause as much bother as weeds and they must be killed.Fruit-Growing Possibilities.The fruit-growing possibilities of this country are so great and as yet so slightly tested, and the successes that have been achieved even on the largest scale have been so largely matters of accident or surprise, that the limits of the fruit-growing districts, and even of the principal fields of production, cannot yet be regarded as finally determined.Man Who Improves Dairy.If the man who causes two blades of grass to grow where one grew before is to be called blessed the same thing should be said of the man who improves his dairy until it produces twice as much butter as it did before he began work.Worth Weight in Gold.Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie Mc-Call, of this place, says: "I had been troubled with female complaints for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardul, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardul is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardul has helped others. Why not you? Try it.
Your druggist sells it, in $1 bottles.

Early Maturity.No Farm Animal More Fully Appreciates Pure Water Than Swine—Provide Plenty of Range—Keep Yards Sanitary.Movable hog houses have come to stay.Early maturity decreases the risk from disease.The pig's head is of as much importance as his food.The breed is of less importance than the surroundings.It does not pay to allow pigs to run through a wet pasture.Bran is an excellent substitute for succulence in the sow's ration.It is a poor idea to think that any one breed is free from disease.A liberal feeding of roots to the hogs insures healthy pigs.Thousands of young pigs are annually lost through lack of exercise.To be successful a man must be particular with his breeding stock.The cost of the product is lessened by pushing the pigs for early maturity.Clover is our cheapest hog food, and every farmer should plan to use all he can.Health is natural, disease is unnatural, health is contagious as well as disease.To make hogs profitable we must provide plenty of range, that we may keep their yards clean and sanitary.A successful hog grower must do this thinking for himself after he reads the writings of other hog-growers.Maintaining a steady gain in weight and a high degree of health are two secrets of success in making pork cheap.The loss of condition at weaning time may be greatly reduced if the pigs have been accustomed to supplementary foods.While the hog is considered the most filthy of animals, yet no kind of animal appreciates pure water more than the hog.Better send the pigs to bed hungry than to send them into a wet nest with a full stomach. The results are the same and the cost less.It will pay any hog-grower to dip all of his growing pigs, at least once a month, to keep their skin in good condition and free from lice.In economical pig-feeding we must make the most of our grain feeds by mixing them with coarse cheap foods, thereby reducing the cost of the ration.

Irish Prefixes of Honor.The belief prevails in parts of Ireland and Europe that only five families rightly bear the O—the O'Neills, high monarchs of Ireland and kings of Ulster; the O'Donnells, princes of Tyr-connell; the O'Connors, kings of Connaught; the O'Briens, kings of Thomond, and the O'Flahertys, princes of bar Connaught. Sir Henry Percy wrote in 1682: "Such as have O prefixed were of old, superior lords or princes, and such as have Mac were only great men, viz, lords, thanes, etc." "I would rather be the O'Neill of Ulster than king of Spain," declared the immortal Shane O'Neill to the British Elizabeth when requested to change his Irish title for an English dukedom, and as such, claiming Ireland's throne, he

FOR BETTER ROADSWINTER ROAD WORK NEEDED

Many Little Improvements That Can Be Made Which Will Combine to Improve Conditions.

American farmers seem to lose sight of the fact that our roads are traveled and cut up by man and beast and wasbed full of ditches by the elements for twelve months every season, while the period during which there is any improvement along the highways covers but one-half that length of time—perhaps less than that.

Is it any wonder that our road system improves so slowly under such conditions? Winter road work is of vital importance. Of course we cannot get out and dig, plow, scrape and grade in sections where the ground is frozen, but there are many little improvements that can be made which will combine to establish more favorable conditions, both during the winter and when the time comes for more active work next season.

Sometimes it is a strip of brush or shrubbery along the fence that ought to be removed, but in any event they must be got rid of, hence they, in addition to the above detriment, prove a nuisance to the traveling public in the summer, by shutting off the air when the days grow sweltering. Then, too, the drying effect of the sun and wind is shut off from the roadbed and this also yields a most detrimental influence on the condition of the roads.

But one must exercise good judgment in the disposition of brush growing along the road. If the drain ditch on each side of the track is somewhat deep, toss the brush into it till it is the proper depth for good drainage, and to prevent further wash; then throw in no more.

If the ditch is about the right depth at the start, keep all the brush out of it so that ample drainage is certain. Bear in mind that correct drainage is the most important factor to be considered in the maintenance of good roads. A firm, compact roadbed cannot exist where water settles on the surface or soaks into the soil and remains there.

Then, many bridges get in bad repair during the winter months. A board or two may be loosened or a treacherous hole may be just right for one or both of the horses to step a foot into it and break a bone. By keeping an eye on these places, one will be enabled to repair them just before they become dangerous, which will help to distribute the road work through the whole year, instead of only six months at a time, as well as arranging so that all of the labor may be nearly cleaned up as possible when the spring comes. Then real improvement of the road may be carried on at once, without any preparatory or repair work being done.

The most important thing that must be kept constantly in mind is that of dragging the roads whenever practicable in winter. Of course we cannot make use of the drag every day, but there are days when the slight thawing again begins to freeze on the surface of the earth, the dirt is brittle enough to be moved and yet it will not roll or clog up on the drag. This is when the road reaches its worst stage through being cut up by travel and if it is left in this condition it freezes that way, making it rough and rutty till it thaws out the following day.

Working down with the drag will brush off and crush the clods and the high places, filling up low and rutty spots, leaving the roadbed smooth and more compact. The ground then freezes up before it is cut up much more by travel, and thus the track will be smoother and easier if allowed to freeze up just as the whole day's travel left it.

Any snow or rain that falls on a stretch of road thus treated with the drag will have no ruts and low places to retain the water and make the roadbed soft, yielding and difficult to drain or dry off.

HEAVY LOSSES

Sustained By American Insurance Companies On Policies of European Soldiers.

Paris, Jan. 8.—One of the American life insurance companies has paid out about $400,000 on policies held by soldiers who were killed in the war. The last policies issued which cover the war risk were dated July 25. After that date American policies were so modified as to exclude all risks connected with the war. A captain of artillery, who paid his first premium on a $5,000 policy on July 25, was killed in one of the early engagements.

Annuities and claims in case of death from natural causes are being paid promptly by American companies, while others, in accordance with the provisions of the moratorium are paying no annuities in excess of $240 per year and no death claims.

IS AS OLD AS THE WORLD

Boy Problem Now, as Always, the Most Vexing Question for the Centuries.

Wars come and go, rulers fall from power, but the boy problem is ever in the public prints. Reading the continuous lamentations with earnest attention, it seems that the boy is always in danger of growing up and becoming a man and that he must be watched very closely. On the other hand, some of 'em become sissies, a fate that is distinctly more to be regretted, although the uplifters say nothing about it. Assisting this pernicious instinct is the boy's own ardent desire to be a man. And that is only excelled by his desire, when that happy estate is reached, to become a boy again. The great joke on every boy is the exchange of boyhood for manhood, and to this all men contribute, more out of a spirit of cynicism and revenge than anything else.

As a matter of fact, the boy of fourteen and sixteen knows more things worth knowing and fewer things that are least left unknown than the man of forty or sixty. The wisest thing in the world is the boy in his early teens, and his only folly at all is growing out of them. Life is thoroughly complete for the boy, and if only there were no men to encourage an ambition toward manhood's privileges, all would be well. It is while he is Christopher Columbus around in those early days that he learns all the human nature there is. Relationships are very direct and associations intimate. There is little equivocation, and subtlety has the frankness of earnestness instead of the duplicity of deceit. Impressions are vivid and the way to make a good, steadfast, lifelong enemy is to give needless offense to a boy of ten years old.

The boy of today knows far more than his father will ever suspect, but, under careful tutelage and great patience on the part of the son, the fathers are doing better right along, and, taken as a class, are improving distinctly and with as much celerity as can be expected.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

ALL COUNTRIES LEVIED ON

Entire World Contributes to the Making of the Famous Biscuits of America.

From Zanzibar, East Africa, the biscuit man buys his cloves. Mace comes from the far-away Straits Settlements of India and Makassar in the Dutch East Indies. Figs are gathered in California and in the groves of Turkey. Many green acres of California and of Greece yield their supply of currants. Cinnamon is gathered in the East Indies; ginger roots from Cochin China, and from Jamaica in the West Indies. From Jamaica also is gathered the allspice. From Trinidad in the West Indies and from South America comes the cocoa. Citron comes from Italy and Spain. From the ancient groves of Italy the extracts of lemon and of orange are procured.

The rugged hills and fertile valleys of Spain yield their almonds; walnut meats come from France. Filberts come from Turkey and Spain, and grated pineapple from the Hawaiian Islands. From Ceylon, the San Blas coast of Panama, Trinidad, Porto Rico, Jamaica, Rustan and Saint Andrews are gathered the cocoanuts. Nuts of finest quality come from the coast of British Honduras.

America furnishes the other, and indeed, the chief ingredients of the biscuit, for from our own country come the cheese, lard, eggs and butter, pecans, honey, fruits and jellies, and also the molasses and sugar; and miles and miles of yellow fields of grain yield the kernels of wheat.

Stopping the Procession. The fact that the little we can do to make the world better is small indeed is often our excuse for doing nothing, but it is a very poor excuse. In reality it should be the very reason why we should do our little and do it up to the limit of our best possible. The world is not made better all at once and by the big achievements of one or two; it is a slow process and the little goodnesses of a multitude of people combine to make it possible. If it came easily and suddenly and through individual effort we might easily shoulder our responsibility on some one else, but when it is such a slow business at which a multitude must work then to neglect our part is a sin and a crime. Because it is so little that the best of us can do, it is all the more important that the little be done after the best fashion, lest the whole process, so slow and laborious at best, still stay and linger for want of us. No, we ought not to stop the procession.

Bravery Was Toothache. While some old soldiers were telling war stories one of them recalled a curious incident. He had a raging toothache and the night before the battle hardly slept a wink. Next day he was in line with his regiment, and there was the usual nervous apprehension among the men, but he was fully occupied with his aching tooth. Suddenly the fight was on, and with a yell he started forward at the head of the company. He yelled and cheered and fought for two hours, and when victory was won he was highly complimented for his bravery. "Yet," said he, "it wasn't bravery at all. It was that awful tooth, and my desire to do anything to banish the jumping pain."

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Pennyroyal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 67.

This Handsome Face Belongs to Dick Moseley, The Meat Man.

One of the new business men of Hopkinsville who has quickly built up a profitable business, is Richard L. Moseley, the proprietor of the meat market on Virginia street, opposite Hotel Latham.

Mr. Moseley was born on a Christian county farm and was a successful farmer until two years ago, when he came to town and shortly afterwards opened a meat store at his present stand.

Being of a genial disposition, with a wide circle of friends, he quickly gained the patronage of the public and his business grew rapidly from the first.

A stock raiser all of his life, his knowledge along this line has stood him well in hand and he now has one of the leading meat markets of the city.

Mr. Moseley belongs to that class of unmarried men whose age is uncertain. He admits being several years beyond the legal age of 21. In fact he was prominent as a Democratic committeeman and party leader in the Casky district for several years before he moved to town. He is a brother of Joe E. Moseley, Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Christian county. He belongs to the Elks and other lodges and is a regular attendant at the Sunday School of the First Baptist church. His friends call him Dick for short, but there is nothing else short about him.

PURELY PERSONAL

Dr. Jas. E. Oldham has returned from Kirksville, Mo.

Dr. G. H. Grace, of Greenville, has moved to this city and opened offices over W. T. Cooper's grocery.

Miss Carolyn Radford has returned from a visit to Miss Frances Chappell, in Cadiz.

Messrs. Fred'k A. Wallis, of New York City, and Allan D. Wallis, of Philadelphia, Pa., will arrive this afternoon for a short visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wallis.

Dr. Joe A. Wall, has gone from New York to Scranton, Pa., to be assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Hospital. Dr. Wall is a Hopkinsville boy, a son of Mr. J. T. Wall, and his friends here are glad to know of his promotion.

Miss Dorothy River, of Paducah, arrived Thursday to visit Miss Bertha Layce, on South Main Street.

Groom 71, Bride 64.

Zenas Alexander, aged 71, and Mrs. Susan Mathis, aged 64, were married near Caledonia in Trigg county, where they are prominent residents. Both have been married several times before. The groom is a Confederate veteran.

Former Mayor Makes Statement

IRREGULARITIES CHARGED.

Special Committee Appointed to Investigate Make Sensational Charges in Report.

Ex-Mayor W. I. Thompson, against whom some sensational charges were made in a report filed with the city council, by a special committee appointed to investigate and check up the bonds issued for street improvement, stated last night that, according to all accounts, the bond collections and accounts balanced when he retired from office. Mr. Thompson says he intends to audit the accounts and that he "knows when the bonds and coupons are checked, no shortage will be found."

The Ex-Mayor's statement follows:

"The first bonds were issued under the present law, whereby the property owners paid for the street intersections. On suit being brought it was decided that the property owners were not liable for the street intersections. The assessments had to be revised and the intersection charged to the city. There may have been some errors made in the totals and assessments.

"The special committee notified me that a meeting would be called and invited me to the meeting, but I was never notified at what time the meeting would be held. I would have been glad to have met with the committee and assisted in checking the bond issue."

"The sensational report filed by the committee will make it necessary for me to audit the issue of all the bonds. When I retired from office, according to the accounts filed with me by the contractors and the collections made, everything balanced.

Meeting For Children.
All children interested in prohibition, and all those who worked in a campaign are requested to meet Mrs. Pennington and Mrs. Keith at the Cumberland Presbyterian church, this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The New Game Law.

The open season for shooting quail and rabbits ended January 1st. Likewise all hunting licenses issued during the year 1914 expire December 31st, and a new license must be taken out for 1915 before the hunter can shoulder his gun and enter the fields and woods for the killing of such game as the law permits to be hunted.

Rabbits may be snared or caught after January 1st, but the shooting of rabbits is forbidden until November 15th, under heavy penalty.

Under the law squirrels may be killed until September 1st. Between that date and November 15th it is unlawful to hunt and kill squirrels.

It is unlawful under the law to kill doves between February 1st and August 1st.

WAR! What Is It All About?

HAS the whole world gone stark mad over a very foolish and trivial question? Are swords rattling, cannon rumbling, mailed armour glistening just because Russia wanted to show her love for the little brother—Serbia?

Tear aside the curtain of Europe's politics and see the grim and sinister game of chess that is being played. See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Just to get you started as a Review of Reviews subscriber, we make you this extraordinary offer. We will give to you

FREE!

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams.

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have punned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades; through the Renaissance up to contemporaneous history, which Prof. Groom has completed in his new book. You will learn the past in the records of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "feeling" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

LIVE STOCK

FEED MIXER IS CONVENIENT

Barrel Swung on Pivot by Extending Round Wooden Axle Through It—is Easily Moved.

A farmer who feeds a number of hogs uses several feed mixers, such as shown in the accompanying illustration, says Farm, Stock and Home. A barrel is swung on pivots by either extending a round wooden axle through the barrel, as at B, or by fastening iron trunnions to opposite sides of same with bolts. The barrel is then suspended in the air in the wooden frame, as illustrated. Feed of all kinds that is mixed with water may be quickly mixed in this device, and as quickly emptied in the trough D by raising the barrel and tipping the feed out in the trough. The tipping handle is shown at C, and a water pipe with tap at A. Two men can easily move this device.

HARM BY ANIMAL PARASITES

Some of These Insects Create or Manufacture Injurious Toxins—Others Transmit Disease.

(By H. S. EAKIN, Colorado Experiment Station.)

Too little attention has been given in the past to the importance that animal parasites have in relation to the health and well being of our domestic animals.

Very few, if any, animals are ever free from parasites in some form, and many are infested with parasites, of a very harmful nature. Parasites are found in many different tissues, as the brain, sinuses of the head, air passages, lungs, liver, stomach, intestines, muscles, blood, etc., and externally on and in the skin, in the ears, etc. Some of these cause mechanical disturbances, others create or manufacture toxins which are injurious to the animal infested, some transmit diseases. Some animals may carry one form of parasite which may later infect other animals of a different species in a different form. Some of these parasites are transformed from animals to man and vice versa.

Animal parasites annually cause great pecuniary loss, and for other reasons briefly enumerated above, more attention should be accorded the domestic animals; and should any suspicion be directed to an animal, competent veterinary advice should be immediately secured.

FEEDING CORN ON THE STALK

Unbusinesslike Method of Turning Pigs Into Field and "Reckon" They Are Doing Well.

More corn on the stalk will probably be fed to hogs this year than ever before. It is not a great deal of satisfaction to see a bunch of shoats doing well in standing corn and not know what price they are paying for the corn. We wouldn't sell corn as a rule to any man on that basis, but a good many of us seem to be willing to "reckon" that the hogs paid a pretty good price for the corn and let it go at that. Handy stock scales are too important a part of the farm equipment to be without, considering their cost and the great educators they are. To be able to state in pounds what crops and live stock produce is just plain business. To be forced to give an estimate in terms of "pretty good," or "poor," or "fair," or others as indefinite says plainly "I am a generation or more behind time."

LIVE STOCK NOTES

A heavy coat of hair is a burden to a road horse.

There is no profit in letting the colts lose their colt flesh.

If the pigs are cold and pinched they can make no gain.

The sheep is a dual purpose animal, producing both wool and mutton.

There is every reason for wintering stock before they are full of dry feed.

If pigs could talk they surely would say, "Balance our rations and watch us pay."

Hogs are not provided by nature with hair to protect them from cold and drafts of icy air.

Feed that suits one animal may starve another. Study individual taste among the live stock.

If we could once and for all rid this country of hog cholera what a wealthy nation we would become.

Means of Offense and Defense.
Many reptiles use their tails to strike down their game, while a large number of animals are supplied with pungent odors or secretions that are equally potent as a defense. In certain groups we find enormous horns and tusks that are intended entirely for purposes of protection. In some cases they are upon the top of the head, as in our cows or oxen. Again, as in the elephant or some cetaceans, they are highly developed teeth.

ALWAYS JOY IN GOOD WORK

Pleasure in Doing, No Matter What the Task, Lifts It From the Thought of Drudgery.

One of the changes which must be gradually introduced into industry if we are to prepare the way for a fresh outburst of human spirit in it is to increase the element of pleasure, remarks the Engineering Magazine.
There are parts of industry which are now fascinating to the workers.
Western America glows with the enthusiasm of the conquest of nature by the mind. Many engineering conceptions, many smoothly interlocking systems of administration and many conserving plans of financing, have been accompanied in the doing with thrills of delight, which have bound the performers like lovers to their tasks.

Good work and joyous work are, in the long run, the same. Wherever in industry good things have been done —wherever achievements have been characterized by vigor and largeness of plan, simplicity and directness of method, and nervous beauty and finish of detail—we may be sure that we have to do with work which has permitted the performer to experience joy, freedom and an exulting sense of strength, while it was being accomplished. And, contrariwise, when we find the worker intelligent and joyous we may expect superior results, for then the psychological conditions are right.

Pleasure in work produces a sympathetic, teachable mental attitude toward the task. It makes the attention involuntary and eases the strain of attending. It stops the nervous leaks of worry. One of the secrets of lasting well is to avoid getting stale and tired and in a mental rut.
Pleasure gives a sense of freedom that is a rest, as a wide road rests the driver. To know a thing thoroughly and attain mastery in it one must be drawn back to it repeatedly by its attractions, and must find one's powers evoked and trained by its inspiration.

ROMANCE FOUND IN WILLS

Bequests and Instructions Reveal the Humor and Pathos of the Ordinary Lives.

The romance of wills, to my mind, consists primarily of the revelation therein of the humor and pathos of ordinary lives, written E. Vine Hall of London, in Case and Comment.
Thus it is that, when here in London, at Somerset house, I turn over the multitudinous leaves of old volumes, covering centuries of dispositions conceived by common men and women of other days, in the hour or in the view of death, I feel that I am engaged in a truly romantic quest. I handled recently a romantic original here, the last diary of Horatio Nelson, written in a little notebook inter-leaved with thin blotting paper. It contains Nelson's last prayer, followed by a document which was proved as codicil to his will, and begins: "October 21, 1805. Then in the sight of the combined fleets of France and Spain, distant about ten miles." The conclusion, which recalls in some ways Captain Scott's last message from the antarctic snows is, it will be remembered, as follows: "I leave Emma Lady Hamilton therefore a legacy to my king and country, that they will give her an ample provision to maintain her rank in life. I also leave to the beneficence of my country my adopted daughter, Horatia Nelson Thomson, and I desire she will use in future the name of Nelson only. These are the only favors I ask of my king and country, at this moment when I am going to fight their battle. May God bless my king and my country, and all those I hold dear! My relations, it is needless to mention; they will of course be kindly provided for."

Word Labels.

We are all in a greater or less degree the slaves of words, judging of an action by the name we give it or hear given it by others. This tyranny of words was well illustrated by a remark made by a woman of at least average intellect: "That sounds very reasonable. But are you not now preaching free trade? Because if you are, I entirely disagree with what you say." She had been willing to swallow the doctrine, but the label stuck in her throat. The hours we spend in uncongenial society, in pursuits which cannot by any possibility be of use to anyone, in doing things we take no interest in, in reading books which need never have been written, in writing articles which need never be read —all these added together would amount to years in the course of a lifetime, and yet we submit, smilingly, uncomplainingly, because we find all these things labeled "Pleasure" and we "ought to take a little relaxation."
—L. B. Wheeler.

Captured Wounded Eagle.
A wounded eagle chased a farmer of Dover, N. J., who was out taking a walk the other evening. He heard a queer sort of fluttering behind him, but thought it was some new-fangled kind of automobile. The fluttering was followed by a screech more raucous than that of the latest auto horn.
The farmer jumped and turned to "cuss out" the speeder. He looked around and saw a bald eagle. He ran, the eagle following and gaining fast until it finally fell helpless to the ground. It had received a gunshot wound. The farmer took the bird home. It measured 64 inches between the tips of its wings.
